THE JOHN JERMAIN LIBRARY 201 Main Street, Sag Harbor, NY 11963 631.725.2390

Thursday Night Writes 6:30 pm Free (Please Register)

Thursday Night Writes, a new series of evening programs, celebrates one hundred years of writers and writing at John Jermain. Beginning October 15th at 6:30 p.m., twenty East End authors will facilitate discussions on Thursday evenings throughout the Fall, Winter and Spring to celebrate the Library's 100th Anniversary. Local writers, aspiring writers and interested readers are invited to participate in these roundtable discussions. Books by the authors will be available for purchase. A celebration of writing, and this library's long-time commitment to authors, Thursday Night Writes is also a celebration of the generosity of this community: All of the participating writers are from Eastern Long Island, most from Sag Harbor. They have generously volunteered their time to make this series possible. Advance registration is recommended. This week: What Makes a Great Picture Book? With Kate McMullen.

THE PARRISH ART MUSEUM 25 Job's Lane, Southampton, NY 11968 631.283.2118

Fridays at Noon 12:00 pm Free with museum admission

Ever since Manet, the notion of "finish" in painting has been a hot topic. Alicia Longwell, Lewis B. and Dorothy Cullman Chief Curator, Art and Education, will examine this issue as reflected in the work of modern masters Alex Katz and Fairfield Porter, the subjects of our two upcoming exhibitions. Katz has said, "I like to finish things." Porter quoted Ingres in saying, "I leave it to time to finish my paintings." On Friday, March 12, "Cut to the Finish" - will look at Alex Katz's method of painting and talk about how the process is absorbed in the ultimate image. On Friday, March 19, "The Finished Muse" - for over 50 years Katz has painted his wife and muse Ada. In this talk we will look at their unique partnership. On Friday, March 26, "Dance Steps" - Alex Katz's drawings of the Paul Taylor Dance Company allow us to look at collaboration between artists and dancers. All talks are free with Museum admission. Bring a lunch and museum will provide dessert and beverages.

631.267.3117

Dylan Conner 8:00 pm $10

In 2004 Connor famed producer Bryce Goggin (Spacehog, Pavement, Nada Surf, Lemonheads, Phish, Apples In Stereo, too many to name...), invited Connor to Trout Recording in Brooklyn after hearing some of his signature 4-track demos. Connor and Goggin emerged with the debut solo effort "Plug in." The songs, naked except for splashes of Bryce's keyboards, percussion, and effects, received an overwhelming response from the public at large. Connor supported "Plug In" by touring from the U.S. to the Middle East. He played dates with the likes of Mike Viola, Milton, Sam Bisbee, and Stephen Kellogg and the Sixers. The song "Love's an Infection" was featured in the March/April issue of American Songwriter Magazine for its lyrical craftsmanship. Connor continued to plant and grow roots in New York, eventually hooking up with his current band members Trevor Coen, Merritt Jacob and Joe Izzo. They further developed their distinct style on the Goggin-produced EP "Breakdowns and Hymns" (think Morrissey and Paul McCartney fronting Nada Surf). In 2008, Connor extended that EP into a full length record called "Breakaway Republic."

In Search of Cavity Nesting Birds 8:00 am (Sag Harbor)

Walk Leader: Joe Giunta. Join Joe, an expert birder and Director of SoFo's Bluebird Nest Box Program, on this walk to see cavity nesting birds such as woodpeckers, nuthatches, titmice, chickadees, and bluebirds. Cavity nesters either excavate holes in standing, decaying trees, called snags, or use holes created by other species. Since the number of snags has been reduced due to issues such as development, many of these birds are now dependent on man-made nest boxes. Joe will discuss these points while introducing you to the life histories of many of our cavity nesting birds. This walk is for adults; however, children 12 years of age and older may attend.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM OF THE EAST END (CMEE) 376 Bridgehampton/Sag Harbor Turnpike, Bridgehampton NY 11932 631.537.8250

It started with a dream: To create a magical and inviting place for young people that would stir their curiosity and imagination. In this quickly moving world of technology, children's museums give families an opportunity to slow down and actively share in their children's growth. These wonderful places of discovery are designed to provide interactive experiences that foster curiosity in children and create a lifelong love of self-directed learning. Interactive exhibits will be both permanent and rotating. The permanent exhibit will focus on what makes the East End a special place, with an emphasis on the people and living creatures that inhabit it. Themes include agriculture, fishing, world celebrations, and community. In addition to the indoor activities, visitors will be encouraged to explore outdoor exhibits, mazes and gardens. Plans include space for year-round workshops, performances, and special events, as well as a permanent art workshop for children to explore their own creativity. Reservations required unless otherwise specified. CMEE Museum Hours: Mon, Wed, Thurs & Sat: 9 am-6 pm; Friday is late night at CMEE: 9 am-7:30 pm; Sun: 10 am-6 pm; Closed on Tuesdays Admission: Under 1 year old: FREE; 12 and under: $5.00; Teens and Grownups: $7.00; Senior Grownups: $5.00 YOU

The Mill House Inn East Hampton NY - "Your Home in the Hamptons"

MUST REGISTER FOR ALL CLASSES IN ADVANCE.

Permanent Exhibit:

Explore along a raised wooden boardwalk and crawl through a hollow log, out of a mouse hole and into our fantasy tree house bedroom. Visit our Crawler Garden with it's cuddly bugs and select fruits and vegetables at the East End Farm Stand. Walk down CMEE's Main Street, sail the seas on our seafaring ship, meet up with some sand puppets, make noise in the Musical Forest, create a masterpiece in our free Drop-In Art Studio, and interact with the traveling exhibits in the Legacy Family Tree Gallery. Connect the past to present to future, from local community to global society. There's a turn- of -the century General Store with a replica soda fountain and costumes to try on. Sit down for a read along under an upside-down library book. Watch us transform potatoes into potato chips, and discover how a windmill works.

Permanent Installation: Works of Michael Dweck 2002 – 2006

Born in Brooklyn, New York, Michael Dweck was given his first Kodak camera by his parents at the age of seven. Having studied fine arts at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, Dweck began his career in advertising. He went on to become a highly regarded Creative Director who received over 40 international awards, including the coveted Gold Lion at the Cannes International Festival. Two of his long-form television pieces are part of the permanent film collection of The Museum of Modern Art in New York. Drawing inspiration from his teenage years spent by the beach on Long Island, Dweck set out to photographically capture the vanishing surf culture of Montauk, a sleepy fishing village that in the 1970s became a haven for East Coast surfers. Michael Dweck's internationally acclaimed first book, titled The End: Montauk, N.Y. (Harry N. Abrams, 2004), is the photographic chronicle and nostalgic tribute to that hedonistic surf community.

The Mill House Inn East Hampton NY - "Your Home in the Hamptons"

EAST HAMPTON HISTORICAL SOCIETY 101 Main Street, East Hampton, NY 11937 631.324.6850

OSBORN-JACKSON HOUSE, c. 1740 101 Main Street, East Hampton

This colonial house, one of the few still in its original position on Main Street, is owned and maintained by the Village of East Hampton. Lionel Jackson donated the property to the Village of East Hampton in 1977 for use as a museum. It serves as the headquarters for the East Hampton Historical Society and a period house museum for the general public. The museum features a display of furnishings dating from about 1780 to 1820, typical of the well-to-do lifestyle of a post-colonial East End family.

Open year round: Tuesday - Saturday 10:00 am – 5:00 pm - Admission: $4 adults, $3 seniors, $2 students - Free for members

CLINTON ACADEMY, c. 1784 151 Main Street East Hampton

Clinton Academy was one of the first academies in New York State chartered by the Board of Regents. The Academy was constructed in 1784 with funds contributed by local citizens at the request of the Reverend Samuel Buell, pastor of the East Hampton Presbyterian Church. This remarkable Academy was a coeducational institution preparing young men for college or for careers such as seafaring or surveying. Young women were schooled in spiritual reading and the finer points of being a lady. The first headmaster, Reverend Buell, gave instruction in Latin as well as Greek and French. Students came from a broad range of places including Long Island, New York City, New Jersey and Connecticut as well as from the West Indies. After the State dissolved the chartered academy system, Clinton became a community center, a playhouse, town offices and briefly housed "The East Hampton Star". This late Georgian style building was restored in 1921 by Mr. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse. Visitors can enjoy the wild flower garden behind the property installed by the Garden Club of East Hampton. Memorial Day weekend through Columbus Day: Sat & Sun 10:00 am – 5:00 pm, or by appointment. Admission: $4 adults, $3 seniors, $2 students - Free for members

MULFORD FARM, c. 1680 10 James Lane, at Montauk Highway, East Hampton

*The Mulford Farm, listed on the National Register of Historic Places, is considered one of America's most significant, intact English Colonial farmsteads. The farm is of interest not merely because of its importance to the history of East Hampton, but because of its antiquity. Viewed as an artifact which has been shaped to fit the needs and the pleasure of those who have lived in it, the house itself has much to tell us about the origins of colonial New England society and the changes which still affect our lives today. The 1680 Mulford House represents one of the most important and complex artifacts produced by our culture - the family home. The survival of this house, built in 1680, is remarkable since it has been left largely unchanged since 1750. The majority of the framing and wood members of the house have been left undisturbed, enabling scholars to tell the story of the successive changes over time. The Mulford Barn, constructed in 1721, is one of the most intact early eighteenth century English-plan barn forms in New York State and is recognized as an outstanding example of early eighteenth century construction methods and materials. Open Memorial Day weekend through Columbus Day weekend: Sat & Sun 10:00 am – 5:00 pm, or by appointment- Admission: $4 adults, $3 seniors, $2 students - Free for members

Baymen's Last Stand: Photographs by Michael Cardacino

Former bayman Danny King's dory-style boat, used for haul seining in Eastern Long Island, was boldly painted with red, white & blue stripes in 1992 in protest of newly enacted government regulations prohibiting haul seining fishing techniques. These images celebrate "The Last Stand" against the law that closed the door on a way of American life and work.

Dedicated to quality and integrity, LongHouse programs encourage a broad concept of learning.

MADOO CONSERVANCY 618 Sagg Main Street (Just South of Post Office) Sagaponack, NY 11967 631.537.8200

Madoo is an artist's garden- the gardens of Robert Dash. Situated on two acres on the south shore of eastern Long Island, it was opened to the public on July 10, 1993. Through the years, the garden has emerged, creeping bit by bit towards the property lines, always in transition, its vital signs regularly enhanced by subtle maneuvers. A few constants are evident, such as an unusual and somewhat radical pruning technique, a goodly amount of whimsy, and a bold use of color on the outdoor furnishings, which are sometimes repainted to complement nearby blooms and foliage.

Open seasonally 5/15 – 9/15 Fri & Sat 12:00 pm – 4:00 pm Admission is $10.00 for a self-guided tour.

Photographs are permitted; strollers and dogs are not. Separate guided tours may be arranged for groups of 10 or more by contacting the office at 631 537 8200.

MARK BORGHI FINE ART 2426 Main Street, Bridgehampton, NY 11932 631.537.7245

Gallery Hours: Daily 9:00 am – 5:30 pm

Current Exhibit

Mark Borghi Fine Art Inc. in Bridgehampton is currently exhibiting the work of contemporary artists Peter Dayton and Andrew Levitas along with its regular collection (which includes Chamberlain, Gottlieb and DeNiro, Sr.). The gallery is located at 2426 Main Street in Bridgehampton. The work will be up until late spring, 2010. Andrew Levitas started off his career as an actor, but then quickly made a name for himself as an artist. MBFA is pleased to present Levitas' photographs on aluminum. Striking natural beach images taken in Sagaponack, East Hampton and the surrounding towns are brought out with the sleek, sharpness of the aluminum. This work makes a conversation between the manufactured and the natural, the natural process versus the art-making procedure. Peter Dayton's surfboard series are amazingly bright bands of color, created on beautiful birch wood. They are reminiscent of actual surfboards with perfect craftsmanship but cross the line into fine art. Dayton's latest endeavor has already caused a buzz. They are a bit tongue-in-cheek; they evoke surf-culture, but are also a statement on commodity aesthetics. If artists Barnett Newman and Kenneth Noland made surfboards, this is what they would look like. Please contact the gallery for more information.

The Mill House Inn East Hampton NY - "Your Home in the Hamptons"

MAYFAIR GALLERY 73 Main Street, East Hampton, NY 11937 516.641.7457

Sat 3/27 – Sun 4/11 Celebration

Food and art join their powerful forces this March and present Celebration. In the definition alone Celebration, an exhibition curated by Molly Weiss, will showcase a full spectrum of art dealing with juxtapositions, notions of togetherness and the complexities of society asking the viewers to think about "what brings them together". This exhibition includes a ten-foot pasta chandelier installation as well as photography, furniture design, printmaking, sculpture and painting. Looking out at our own backyard, a raffle and portion of the proceeds will go directory to MaryAnn Tupper and the Food Pantry of Southampton. Local friend, Balsam Farm of Amagansett and Quail Hill Farm of Amagansett help make this exhibition possible, donating food for the menu opening night, March 27th. Six of the featured emerging artists are from the East End. This very special exhibition will also include performance artist Andrina Wekontash Smith of Southampton and an open mic for all the writers and poets of the East End on opening night. Supporting locally is the asset that makes our environment so special. We come together. CELEBRATION will take off March 27th with an opening reception from 5:30-9pm, with performances starting at 6. Exhibition runs through April 11th.

MOSQUITO HAWK GALLERY 24 North Ferry Road, Shelter Island, NY 11964 631.905.4998

Housed in a 19th century church, Mosquito Hawk Gallery boasts cathedral ceilings and 75 feet of linear hanging space.

Current Exhibit: Gabriela Trueba

My work is spontaneous, impulsive, and visceral. I'm dedicated to beauty – its complexity and its effect. I'm intrigued by the unconventionally beautiful; the odd, the strange, the worn, washed out, scratched, dirty. I create what I consider to be haunting, mysterious and transcendental images.

SAG HARBOR WHALING MUSEUM 200 Main Street, Sag Harbor, NY 11963 631.725.0700

During the 19th century, Sag Harbor, New York became one of the busiest ports in the northeast, where whalers of many nationalities could be seen walking the streets. In our bustling village young men from small East End towns often found work as whalers, a job that promised them the possibility of earning more money than they could make on the farm and the chance to see places they had only dreamed of or heard about from other whalers. These young local men, together with foreign whalers, brought culture and customs, stories and lore from distant lands to Sag Harbor. During this time period Sag Harbor became a truly international port town, where diverse cultures came together for one pursuit: the hunt of the mighty whale.

Sat 4/10 Lieb Cellars presents Oysterfest: NOFO Oyster Bar 1:00 pm – 4:00 pm Reservations required

Lieb Family Cellars will host its 6th annual "Oysterfest" Saturdays in April. This year's "Oysterfest" focuses on the local influence and raw flavor of oysters, but most importantly, the biggest question of debate and passion: Which wines pair best with oysters? To help you figure it out, our tasting will feature the traditional champagne and oyster pairing, as well as some non-traditional varietals and wine styles, including a Cabernet Franc and a White Merlot. We will rotate raw oysters with cooked oysters featuring a raw bar compliments of the NOFO Oyster Bar on Saturdays April 10 and April 24. The NOFO Oyster Bar will serve its very own oysters from Peconic Bay called "Peconic Prides." For more information call 631-734-1100 or e-mail melissa@liebcellars.com. From 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. at Lieb Cellars Tasting Room, 35 Cox Neck Road, Mattituck, 631-298-1942.

LONG ISLAND MEADERY 1347 Lincoln Avenue, Holbrook NY 11741 631.285.7469

Have you ever heard of mead? Have you ever tried mead? Maybe you tried mead while visiting Europe or at a medieval festival? Have you been told that mead was like beer, a beer with honey or even a wine with honey? Mead has some similarities to these beverages, but it is so much more it deserves its own category. Mead is an alcoholic beverage made from the fermentation of honey as its primary sugar source and is often referred to as honey wine. Being made from honey, one would naturally expect it to be very sweet and although it usually is, it can actually range from dry to very sweet. Mead is usually still, though it can be made sparkling and can range from a mild low alcoholic content up to very high. Mead is arguably the oldest alcoholic beverage on the planet with some evidence dating it back approximately 10,000 years. Due to many different cultural and financial reasons, mead has fallen out of favor over the many years and now we call it the 'oldest alcoholic beverage no one has ever heard of.' A far cry from its heyday when it was referred to as the 'Nectar of the Gods.' Mead can be produced in many variations including a plain honey wine (traditional - honey only), flavored with fruit (melomel), spices (metheglin), vegetables, or any combination of ingredients limited only by the imagination of the wine maker and the resources he has at hand.

Outdoors on The East End

THE NATURE CONSERVANCY NY 631-329-7689

The South Fork Shelter Island Chapter of the Nature Conservancy (329-7689) publishes a detailed preserve guide which provides a wealth of information about the many preserves the organization owns and/or manages in this area. Most of the preserves are open to visitors who may hike and enjoy them on their own while others are accessible only by guided tour. A few extremely fragile sites are not open to the public. Copies of the preserve guide are available by sending $5, plus $1 for shipping and handling, to the South Fork-Shelter Island Chapter, PO Box 5125, East Hampton, NY 11937. For those who like to hike, they are an invaluable guide to absolute enjoyment. A sampling of The Nature Conservancy preserves are listed below: Mashomack Preserve (749-1001) Rte 114, Shelter Island (closed Tuesdays) 2,039 acres. Four trails, 1 1/2 to 11 miles long, staffed trail house, visitors center/gift shop open May 1 through Columbus Day. Long Pond Greenbelt, Bridgehampton, 459 acres stretching from Sag Harbor to the Atlantic Ocean. Suggested route takes hikers on a loop around Long Pond and Little Long Pond with the opportunity to continue south towards Crooked Pond. Head off trail off Main Street, Sag Harbor, adjacent to Mashashimuet Park. Grace Estate Preserve, Northwest Harbor, East Hampton, 516 acres. Suggested route leads through a wooded area and along Northwest Harbor passing by large freshwater pond and historic homesites along the way.

Mashomack Preserve, Shelter Island 631.749.1001

Edged in white by 10 miles of coastline, Mashomack Preserve on Shelter Island is considered one of the richest habitats in the Northeast. Just 90 miles from New York City, the preserve covers a third of the island with 2,039 acres of interlacing tidal creeks, mature oak woodlands, fields, and freshwater marshes and is often referred to as the "Jewel of the Peconic." All programs require pre-registration. Call the Mashomack Preserve office at (631) 749-1001 for reservations, meeting place, and further information. Events are free to members of The Nature Conservancy, $4 for non-members, unless otherwise noted.

Sat 4/10 How To Reframe Your Big Financial Picture 8:00 pm $15/$10 Members/$5 Students

In these tough economic times, many of us find that our futures are not as secure as we'd hoped. Jobs have been lost. Homes have been foreclosed. Savings have been depleted out of necessity and/or the volatility of the stock market. We're in the midst of an unfamiliar, uncertain economy. Traditional ways of coping and planning for the future may not work in this new economic environment. How can we best manage now? Answers are needed from insiders with insight. Custer Member, Joan Lappin, CFA, is founder and CEO of Gramercy Capital Management, one of very few firms to have been ranked #1 in Nelson's Directory of Registered Investment Advisors. She is a respected market analyst, has been called an "investment guru" by Business Week, and is a contributor to Forbes.com. Refreshments and observing (weather permitting) will follow.
